

Summer Reading 2024-25 – Rising 7th and 8th Graders

It is said that reading is the key to learning, which is why most schools have summer reading programs. Reader's Digest states, "Studies have shown that a regular reading habit not only sharpens vocabulary and improves IQ but also reduces the brain's rate of decline in old age and expands 'EQ'—emotional intelligence and well-being." In addition, Dr. Seuss says, "The more that you read, the more things you will know. The more that you learn, the more places you'll go." It is also safe to say that reading is a fundamental part of every trade or profession.

The Summer Reading List and instructions for the "paper bag book report" are attached. Your student will choose one book from the list to read over the summer. The books vary in topics, reading level, and size. The rubric is also included so you know how I will grade this project. Your child will take an AR test within the first week of school on the book he or she read, which will also be a grade. In essence, there will be two grades from summer reading.

I am looking forward to the 2024-25 school year and helping your child learn to love reading and exploring new worlds. Pleasant words are a honeycomb, Sweet to the soul and healing to the bones. Proverbs 16:24

Paper Bag Book Report

You will be completing a paper bag book report as an assessment for this novel/story.

On the Outside....

For this book report, you must consider each the following: setting, plot, main character, and theme.

There are four panels on a paper bag. You will be expected to dedicate one panel of your brown paper bag to each of these four elements.

1. For the setting, you must include the time and place (if there is more than one time/place include those too). You must also create a small illustration to add to this panel that illustrates one of the main settings in the novel.
2. You must summarize the plot in a few sentences – keep it short and sweet. Many times, this is more difficult than writing a lengthy description.
3. Tell about the main character on the third panel. Do not focus on the physical and the obvious. Tell how this character changed throughout the story. What happened to him/her to cause this change etc.? You can include the obvious information (family background, physical traits, etc.). However, don't include ONLY this information. List the other major/minor characters in the story by name on this panel.
4. The final panel must be about the theme of the book. What is the theme(s) and what are your feelings about the message in this novel?

- The information for each panel must be neatly written/typed on a small piece of paper and glued/taped to the bag. You won't need any more than a paragraph or so for each panel.
- Drawings/visuals are welcome, but optional
- Be sure to include the title of the novel, author and your name clearly on the outside of the bag

On the Inside...

You must include 10 items in your bag that have some significance to the story. Be imaginative...Think outside of the box. You can use toys, modeling clay, or anything else that may represent something important from the story.

Make sure each item that you pick is unique and include a one sentence descriptor attached to the item about its significance.

You will be expected to share your book report with the class (inside and out) and will be marked on: the inclusion of the setting, plot, major character, theme, and conventions (for the outside of the bag), your ten items inside the bag and your overall speaking/listening skills during the presentation. Have fun and do your best!
